INFORMATION FOR AUTHORS

1. Work made for hire: If you are an employee and your paper was prepared as part of your job, the copyright to the paper belongs to your employer. If you as an author sign the copyright transfer form, you represent that you are authorized by your employer to do so and that your employer has consented to all of the terms and conditions of this form. If not, it must be signed by someone so authorized.

2. Joint authorship: For jointly authored papers, only one signature is required if all authors work for the same company; the paper thus is a work made for hire, the copyright rests with the employer rather than the individual authors, and anyone authorized by the employer may authorize the copyright transfer. When the authors work for different employers, a separate copyright transfer form must be signed by the authorized agent for each employer. When authors are self-employed, each must sign a separate copyright transfer form. Co-authors who are U.S. Government employees are not required to sign this form, but any co-authors outside the U.S. Government must sign Part A.

3. Work performed under U.S. Government contract: Authors whose work was performed under U.S. Government contract, but who are not employees of the U.S. Government, are required to sign Part A. Item 5 of Part A returns the reproduction rights to the U.S. Government when required for U.S. Government purposes, while retaining the MS&T17 Organizers’ copyright protection with respect to reuse of the material by the general public.

4. MS&T17 Organizers’ policy on assignment of copyright: As a convenience and courtesy to the technical community, the MS&T17 Organizers will routinely grant permission upon request to authors to use in their papers, portions of works by other authors for which copyright has been transferred to the Organizers. The MS&T17 Organizers reserve the right to use any parts or the entire paper in revised editions, derivative works, etc.

5. The MS&T17 Organizers’ publishing policy on presentations accepted for conferences and symposia: the MS&T17 Organizers reserve the right to publish, reproduce and display presentations accepted for conferences and symposia prior to publication elsewhere. Permission to reprint presentations from the MS&T17 Organizers’ publications must be obtained prior to publication elsewhere.
